Tough, Rough Love

Alona Vostrikova bends and stretches you into shape fast with Alona Pilates

Why is this so painful? Classic Pilates is less intense and painful. After 20 years of experience in personal training, step class, spinning, aerobics, body pumping, yoga and Pilates, I was able to mix all of these styles and create my own Pilates class, which is more intense than classic Pilates. And I think my students like it so much because they feel that after only one hour they get a full intense workout. What is the funniest thing you've seen in your time teaching? The funniest thing is when super fit and athletic guys come to class with the attitude that they are going to waste an hour of their time doing Pilates, but after 15 minutes they are dying. What kind of student do you usually attract? Everybody is welcome to join my classes. I have students from all over the world and from all occupations. And I recently opened a special class only for women, perfect for Muslim girls who have a hard time finding a place with no men to work out comfortably. Can out-of-shape folks do the sport? Yes, absolutely. Pilates is actually the best way to get started, because you are toning your muscles and strengthening your joints. How did you get started with Pilates? When I was 16 I fell from a motorcycle and injured my back. The constant pain was a remainder of that accident. After I started teaching Pilates I realized I didn't have pain anymore. That gave me proof that I could help other people.
